Team Speech: ★

we are a group of political and environmental activists, have been active since 2008, crypto space moving very fast and also we have been part of this digital community for a long time before the world recognized defi, metaverse and meme coins. we've found a lot of memes for something funny and viral Animal, but we haven't found coin memes that can unite both socio-political and environmental criticism.

listen:

they have mocked us with domineering behavior, corruption, monopoly and making the world rotten.

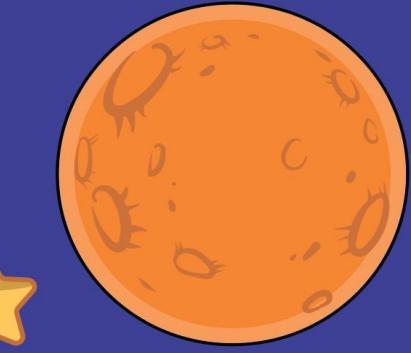

now it's time for us to mock back in a fun way

They stood there at the G7 all shaking hands and drinking together in private, but in public they're doing the weak elbow bounce, They're doing one thing for the cameras and they're doing another thing for each other. It looks like they're mocking us, to be honest, at this point. They're living the high life. The global elites doing whatever the hell they like while us common folk are locked away in our homes. People are losing their livelihoods. A lot of pubs and high street retailers will never open again – they can't afford to anymore and they've gone bankrupt. People can't support their families while the government and the global elites are meeting together, having caviar, drinking fine wines and having a laugh at our expense.

now we have baby dummy token with NFT collectibles, safe and solid contracts driven by the community as a weapon! now you decide!

Join us! and it's time for us to mock back!
